Great Falls Pre-Release Services hosted the quarterly Department of Corrections/Pre-Release Directors' meeting on January 23 of this year. Between business discussions, those wishing to tour the East Campus facility were able to check out the new addition. We will be hosting the DOC Mid-Management meeting at this facility late in the month of April and a training session conducted by DOC personnel during the middle of May. The "great room" sees a lot of activity throughout the year and the temperature as well as tempers can get a little warm in there at times.

EMPLOYEE OF THE QUARTER
BILL MCLEAN

Bill McLean, Maintenance Supervisor, was chosen Employee of the Quarter based on his nomination which stated in part “Bill is a likeable and dedicated member of the Center who is always there when you need him....Bill has come to many an employee’s rescue. I have often overheard the maintenance inmate workers praise Bill, not only for his character but for the way he treats them and how he gets the job done.”

Bill is retired from civil service after a career spanning 40 years, starting at Hill Air Force Base in Ogden, Utah, for four years and 36 years at Malmstrom Air Force Base. He retired from Civil Service in 2003, spent a year building his house, and then came to the Transition Center in 2004.

He recently underwent heart surgery and has recuperated very well. He may return to the Center on a part-time basis. Bill and his wife have a son who is an attorney in Fargo, North Dakota.

RICHARD TURNER
RESIDENT BEADER

Richard Turner, former inmate worker in the kitchen and now a resident at the Center, uses much of his free time to hone his craft of beading. His mother and grandmother began teaching Richard beading when he was about ten years old. Beading was a family thing. Richard beads vests, gloves, moccasins, purses, earrings, key fobs, belts, and belt buckles. His beadwork has been sold throughout the United States and Belgium. He has consigned at the Plains Indian Museum in Browning. He is presently negotiating to show his work at the shop of the Smithsonian Museum of the American Indian.
